Sensory Friendly Artmaking in the Crayola Classroom

Join us in the Crayola Classroom each Sensory Saturday to make art with our team of museum educators!

October-December: Print and Play

Prints and Patterns are in the world all around us. Join us in the Crayola Classroom during Sensory Saturdays to create a printed work of art! Create a printed work of art or seasonal card using stamps and other texture tools during Sensory Saturdays at the Allentown Art Museum. From October to December, we will be printmaking with stamps, texture tools, and ink pads inspired by patterns, shapes, and the changing colors of autumn. Printmaking involves transferring images and patterns using stamps and ink. Explore your senses by playing with color, texture, and pattern to create your own printed artwork during Fall Sensory Saturday Art Making.

Printing Materials for Sensory Hour:

- Stamps
- Stamp pads
- Bingo dotters
- Texture Plates
- Oil pastels
- Markers
- Construction paper
- Cardstock